MACHIGAI!②

① ウォータースライダーは楽しいね!

Water slider is fun!

Many students made this mistake in their writing! To call it a “slider” sounds like we are talking about a person who slides. The equipment for sliding is simply called a “slide.” Also, you should either say that the action of using a water slide is fun, or else change “slide” to the plural form.

Going down a water slide is fun!

Water slides are fun!

② どう思いますか。

How do you think?

To a native speaker, this sentence means 「どうやって考えますか。」. So you know the answer is “ I think with my brain!” When we’re asking someone else’s opinion in English, we don’t ask how they think; we ask what they think.

What do you think?

Don’t forget to have fun!
